

Announcement/Chronique

Call for Manuscripts

The Journal of the History of Philosophy Monograph Series accommodates serious studies in the history of philosophy that are between article length and standard book size (35,000 to 55,000 words). Ranging from ancient Greek philosophy to the twentieth century, the series includes extended studies on individual philosophers, ideas, analyses of texts and controversies, new translations and commentaries on them, and documentary findings about various thinkers and events in the history of philosophy.

Manuscripts should be sent to: Editor, Ancient and Medieval, Charles M. Young, Department of Philosophy, Claremont Graduate School, Claremont, CA 91711; Editor, Modern and Recent, Richard A. Watson, Department of Philosophy, Washington University, St. Louis, MO 63130.