LECTURESHIP IN ACTUARIAL MATHEMATICS

<http://www.ma.hw.ac.uk/~andrewc/vacancy.html>

The Department of Actuarial Mathematics and Statistics has a new permanent Lectureship in Actuarial Mathematics open from September 2005.

The position offers an exciting opportunity to join a vibrant and successful academic group. The Department has an outstanding international research reputation and was awarded Grade 5 in the UK Research Assessment Exercise 2001. It is also one of the world's leading centres of actuarial education.

Ideally, you:

- have a strong track record in research in Actuarial Mathematics or the potential to develop one;
- have the technical skills necessary to make a significant contribution to the research and the reputation of the Department; and,
- possess the communication skills to teach at a range of levels.

Applicants primarily interested in teaching could be considered for a full-time permanent position as a Teaching Fellow.
