RECENT TITLES

THE TURN AGAINST THE MODERN

The Critical Essays of Taoka Reiu (1870-1912)

Ronald P. Loftus

List Price: $25 (AAS Member Price: $20). ISBN 978-0-924304-84-2. Pb: 340 pages.

A biography of the late Meiji social and cultural critic, Taoka Reiu (1870–1912), who was known for his fierce attack on modernity. A careful reader of philosophy, religion, and literature, Reiu embraced a vision of history, society, and the future that marks him as an original and creative thinker whose understanding of what it means to be modern and human remains alive and vital today.

"Vividly brings to life an overlooked contrarian whose writings tell us that Japan's modernization process was much more complex and controversial than the standard 'Meiji progress narrative' would have us believe."
— James L. Huffman, Wittenberg University

"Offers an excellent introduction to the intellectual life of perhaps the most critical period of Japan's modern experience. Reiu's courage, thoughtfulness and imagination are the kind of critical intellectual energy and intervention that are called for today, making this book an important read for students of modern Japan and East Asia."
— Sho Konishi, University of Oxford

ASIA SHORTS

THE NEWEST BOOK SERIES FROM AAS

"ASIA SHORTS" offers concise, engagingly-written titles written by highly-qualified authors on topics of significance in Asian studies. Topics are intended to be substantive, generate discussion and debate within the field, and attract interest beyond it.

NEW RELEASE

THE DREAM OF EAST ASIA

The Rise of China, Nationalism, Popular Memory, and Regional Dynamics in Northeast Asia

by John Lie

Going beyond the standard scripts, The Dream of East Asia presents a framework for understanding contemporary Northeast Asia, focusing on the countries that comprise our conventional understanding of what we call East Asia—namely, China, Taiwan, Japan, and the two Koreas. In so doing, John Lie illuminates regional economic, political, and cultural dynamics.

WHAT DO WE TALK ABOUT WHEN WE TALK ABOUT EAST ASIA?

We are worried about China's emergence as an economic giant and military power that may upset the regional and, indeed, the global status quo. Much more mercurial, however, and therefore more frightening, is that riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma known as North Korea, with its alternate launching of rhetorical fusillades and long-range missiles. And what has happened to Japan, that once mighty economic engine now reduced to a source of bleak news about stagnation and malaise? Then there is South Korea, manufacturer of such technologically advanced products as smartphones, and lately a generator of transnational fads ranging from snail cream to K-pop.

TEACHING JAPANESE POPULAR CULTURE

Edited by Deborah Shamoon and Chris McMorran

"This pioneering collection on the pedagogy of Japanese pop offers practical advice as well as theoretical reflections on the opportunities and challenges of teaching with (and about) Japan's globalized media products. Instructors at all levels (from K-12 through university) and in all disciplines (including language teachers) will find this volume timely, stimulating, and thoroughly useful."

— William M. Tsutsui, Hendrix College

"Two decades since 'cool Japan' began to attract widespread interest in the university classroom, resources on the teaching of Japan's popular culture remain scarce. This outstanding collection does much to fill this gap, offering insightful, hands-on approaches to help students engage critically with pop culture materials."

The Mongol Empire in World History

Helen Hundley

"Hundley successfully demonstrates the complex legacy of the Mongol presence in medieval history, when Mongol warriors created a vast political organism facilitating interethnic and intercontinental economic and cultural exchange. The usefulness of the text is manifold: it is helpful reference material for those who specialize in Asian Studies and the European Middle Ages and also teach world history with an emphasis on cultural interaction, and also serves a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Mongol Empire, accessible to general readership."

Chinese Literature: An Introduction

Ihor Pidhainy

In this brief yet thorough introduction to the key features and important names of Chinese literature, the author covers Chinese writings from oracle bones to the internet. Contextualizing the literature within political, historical and cultural frames, the author also provides a smorgasbord of examples from the authors noted. The book combines an introduction to the key features of Chinese literature, the names of outstanding writers and movements, and some interesting anecdotes that will leave students amused and curious for more.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

When preparing a manuscript, please note that JAS is committed to publishing articles based on in-depth, original research. Authors should also take care to address the interests of our broad, multidisciplinary readership by raising larger questions of interest that reach beyond their precise research specialties. Authors are encouraged to consult recent issues of JAS for guidance on style and formatting.

See the AAS website <<https://www.asian-studies.org/Publications/JAS>> and Editorial Manager <<http://www.editorialmanager.com/jas/>> for more information on the journal, types of work we publish, and sample articles.

- Manuscripts submitted to JAS should not have been published elsewhere and should not be under review for publication elsewhere.
- Article manuscripts, including notes and references, should range between 8,000 and 10,000 words, or approximately thirty-five pages in length, and must include a 150 word abstract at the beginning of the document.
- Authors' names must be left off of the manuscript, as JAS engages in double-blind reviews.
- Please double-space manuscripts and use 12-point type with 1 inch margins including abstracts, notes, and references.
- Notes should be as few as possible and appear at the end of the text.
- Use parenthetical in-text citation, and author-date formatting for references per section 15 of the Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition (Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2010).
- Please use the following Romanization: Chinese: Pinyin; Japanese: Hepburn; Korean: McCune-Reischauer.

Articles in JAS represent neither the views of the Association for Asian Studies nor those of the JAS editors. The Editor is responsible for the final selection of content of JAS and reserves the right to reject any material deemed inappropriate for publication. Responsibility for opinions expressed and the accuracy of facts published in articles and reviews rests solely with the individual authors.

PROCEDURE FOR MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Manuscripts of 8,000 to 10,000 words and any accompanying figures should be submitted electronically through the Editorial Manager online submission system: <http://www.editorialmanager.com/jas/>.

All authors who wish to include figures should read and follow the Cambridge Artwork Guide, available at: <https://www.cambridge.org/core/services/authors/journals/journals-artwork-guide>. All images, tables and figures should include titles or captions. Please note that in the event of publication, the author is responsible for acquiring high-resolution images along with permission to publish them.

Please indicate whether figures should be printed in color. There will be a charge of US$320 for each color figure printed in the journal. If you select this option, you will be contacted by CCC-Rightslink who are acting on our behalf to collect Author Charges. If usable color figures are supplied, these figures will appear in color online regardless of whether or not they are reproduced in color in the printed version.

Due to the volume of submissions, we cannot evaluate proposed abstracts or titles, only full submissions. The JAS does not do special issues.

The Editorial office can be reached via email: jas@journalofasianstudies.org. Our office phone number is (949) 824-0541. If no one is present, please call the history department office at (949) 824-6521 to leave a message.
