New series:

ROMAN LITERATURE AND ITS CONTEXTS

This series is designed to encourage readers of Latin texts to sharpen their readings by placing them in broader and better defined contexts, and to encourage other classicists to explore the general or particular implications of their work for readers of Latin texts.

The first three titles:

Redeeming the Text

Latin Poetry and the Hermeneutics of Reception

CHARLES MARTINDALE

This book applies some of the procedures of modern critical theory to the interpretation of Latin poetry. The author argues for an approach which sees the meaning of a text as always and necessarily involved in the process of 'reception'.

Ethics with Aristotle

SARAH BROADIE

'Magisterial ... a powerful set of insights about how to read Aristotle's ethics and many suggestive ideas about how to do ethics with Aristotle.' Mind

'An important contribution both to the scholarly examination of Aristotle's ethical texts and to contemporary attempts to do ethics with Aristotle as a companion ... Broadie's work fills a gap both in the detail and scope of its commentary and in the interpretations and arguments it advances.' Choice

Unity, Identity, and Explanation in Aristotle's Metaphysics

Edited by T. SCALTSAS, D. CHARLES, and M. L. GILL

A distinguished group of Aristotelian scholars and contemporary metaphysicians discusses Aristotle's theory of the unity and identity of substances. The questions of ontology, explanation, and methodology examined here remain central to metaphysics today. This book sets a new agenda for Aristotelian metaphysics.

Oxford Classical Texts

The Oxford Classical Texts are renowned for their reliability and their presentation.

The series consists of texts without commentary but with a brief apparatus criticus at the foot of each page.

There are now over 100 volumes, representing the greater part of classical Greek and Latin literature.

The aim of the series remains that of including the works of all the principal classical authors.

Oxford Classical Texts 1994 includes:

- A complete list of all Oxford Classical Texts
- A feature of this year's four new titles (see below)
- A listing of related Classics reference books available from Oxford

*Oxford Classical Texts 1994

PRINCETON

A New History of Classical Rhetoric

George A. Kennedy

George Kennedy's three volumes on classical rhetoric have long been regarded as authoritative treatments of the subject. This new volume, an extensive revision and abridgment of The Art of Persuasion in Greece, The Art of Rhetoric in the Roman World, and Greek Rhetoric under Christian Emperors, provides a comprehensive history of classical rhetoric, one that is sure to become a standard for its time.

Making Men

Sophists and Self-Presentation
in Ancient Rome

Maud W. Gleason

In treating rhetoric as a process of self-presentation in a face-to-face society, Maud Gleason analyzes the deportment and writings of the two Sophists—Favorinus, a eunuch, and Polemo, a man who met conventional gender expectations—to suggest the ways character and gender were perceived.

"The book is both original and persuasive. . . . The author writes crisply and amusingly."—Glen W. Bowersock

NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS

1. One copy of an article will suffice. It will usually be returned if the contributor so requests on submitting it, but as the editors may wish to annotate it and furthermore cannot take responsibility for any loss, contributors should retain another copy.

2. Articles should be typed in double spacing on A4 paper and on one side of the paper only. Footnotes should be numbered consecutively and typed on separate sheets. Greek quotations need not be typed, but every letter must be clear and legible; especial care should be taken over accents and breathings.

3. Quotations in English, Latin, French, etc., should be put in single inverted commas, e.g.

...the phrase 'dux femina facti' has...

A quotation within a quoted passage has double inverted commas. Single words or self-contained phrases (such as fait accompli) may be underlined to indicate italics. Material inserted within a quotation is placed in square brackets:

'[The translator]... must ever be casting his eyes upwards from the copy to the original.'

4. References should normally be given in the footnotes, in the following form:

BOOKS

R. Syme, The Roman Revolution (Oxford, 1939), pp. 78–9 or op. cit., pp. 78–9.

E. Norden, *Die antike Kunstprosa*⁵ i.164–81 or op. cit. i.164–81.

F. Jacoby, FGrHist 328 F 4.

Authors' initials should be stated, at least at their first mention. Abbreviations should not be assigned to books unless they are generally familiar (e.g. *OCD*² omitting full points).

ARTICLES

R. P. Winnington-Ingram. 'The Danaid Trilogy', JHS 81 (1961), 141–52
or R. P. Winnington-Ingram, JHS 81 (1961), 141–52.

Both year and volume number should be given.

Abbreviations may follow the style of Marouzeau's L'Année philologique.

ANCIENT AUTHORITIES

Aristophanes, Birds 135; Homer, Od. 1.1 (not a 1); Cic. Phil. 2.20 (not 2.8 or 2.8.20); Plin. N.H. 9.176 (not 9.83.176 or 9.83); Quint. 10.1.46; Soph. O.C. 225 (retain full points; do not use l. or ll., but, where necessary, line or lines).

B.C. should appear after, A.D. before, the number of the year. The following should not be italicized: op. cit., loc. cit., cf., ibid., s.v.

The Classical Association

The main aims of the Classical Association are to promote and sustain interest in classical studies, to maintain their rightful position in universities and schools, and to give scholars and teachers opportunities of meeting and discussing their problems. It organizes an annual conference, lasting four or five days, in a university centre, and sponsors twenty-nine branches, most of which hold Greek and Latin Reading Competitions for Scholars. Its activities are fully reported in the annual Proceedings, issued free to all members.

The present membership of the Association is approximately 4,400. Membership is open to both individuals and to institutions at an annual subscription of £3.00 (life composition for individual members, £63.00). Members may obtain the Classical Review and Classical Quarterly at reduced prices (Review, £20.00; Quarterly, £21.00; combined subscription, £35.00). Greece & Rome may also be obtained through the Association for an annual subscription of £15.00. Application for membership and subscriptions for the journals (which should normally be received by 31 January in each year) should be addressed to the Hon. Treasurer, Richard Wallace, B.A., M.A., Department of Classics, University of Keele, Keele, Staffs. ST5 5BG.

The Association can also supply copies of the Index to the First Series of the Classical Review (price £1.50 for members, £1.75 for non-members, post free), of the last issues of The Year's Work in Classical Studies, covering the years 1945–7 (price £1.00 each volume, post free) and of New Surveys in the Classics (price for members £4.00). These publications and details of the various occasional publications of the Association are obtained from the Hon. Treasurer. Inquiries should be sent to either of the Hon. Secretaries (Dr. J. Percival, Department of Classics, University College Cardiff, P.O. Box 78, Cardiff CF1 1XL and Miss H. M. Jones, 18 Valley Close, Pinner, Middlesex).
