Dance Research at School of the Arts

The Department of Performance Studies offers a concentration in dance research leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees. Dance is an integral area of the program in which all performance is approached as a continuum ranging through formal modes, folk and popular entertainments, and ritual. The perspective is cross-cultural and interdisciplinary, including historical, anthropological, and critical approaches.

- The dance courses cover the gamut of human movement in performance — from Balanchine ballets to the martial arts, Asian theatre to post-modern dance, Shaker ritual to the dance of social interaction.
- Recognized scholars and critics offer courses in their areas of expertise. Past adjunct faculty members have included Nancy Goldner, Dale Harris, Deborah Jowitt, John Mueller, Marcia B. Siegel, Sally R. Sommer, and David Vaughan. In addition, guest artists present their work in class.
- The department draws on the rich resources of New York City. A wide range of performances, research facilities, and fieldwork opportunities supplement course work.

Resident faculty members include Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett (chairman), Suzanne Youngerman (dance program coordinator), Theodore Hoffman, Michael Kirby, Brooks B. McNamara, and Richard Schechner.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS TO DANCE RESEARCH JOURNAL

The Dance Research Journal publishes original articles in the area of dance and related fields. Contributions for publication consideration are open to both members and non-members of CORD. At the time manuscripts are submitted, written assurance must be given that they have not been published, submitted, or accepted for publication elsewhere. Views expressed in published articles are the author's and not necessarily those of CORD or its officers. Articles and communications pertaining to the DRJ should be sent to the appropriate editors as listed on inside cover of this journal. When in doubt, send to editors.

Articles: Should contribute original material – be research reports, discussions of theory and methods, critical syntheses and evaluations of the state of knowledge or method in the different disciplines involved in dance research. Please submit an original, double spaced typescript and one copy (or two clear copies). All materials, including bibliography, notes, and long quotations, must be double spaced. Notes must be numbered consecutively throughout the article and typed on a separate sheet. Include footnote material within the text whenever possible. See accepted manual of style or a recent issue of this publication for details of form. Illustrative material, such as tables and maps, should be carefully done for photocopying. Photographs should have a glossy finish. All manuscripts must be accompanied by an abstract of 50-100 words and biographical information of four to six lines which include current evidence of expertise in the topic of article.

Reviews: State name of author(s) or editor(s), book title underlined (title of periodical articles in quotes, name of periodical underlined), place of publication, name of publisher, year of publication (vol./no./date of periodical), number of pages (or the pages if periodical article), hardback/paperback, price; approximate length should be 1500-2000 words (6-8 typewritten pages, double spaced) or shorter; scholarly in orientation. Make application of above criteria for films, etc.

Reports: Should include what, where, when, who, and how. Specify the relevance of the activity (conferences, descriptions of archives and collections, projects, developments of interests in the field, etc.) to dance research; related literature should be cited; usually 2-3 typewritten pages, double spaced

Research Materials: (annotated bibliography): Author(s) or editor(s) last name first; titles – book, underlined; periodical articles in quotes; complete data on publication; indicate photographs and illustrations; brief summary of work – concept, quality of documentation, bibliography; own value judgment (optional); approximately 200 words in length. Make application of above criteria for films, recordings, etc.

Comments to the Editor: Readers' comments on Dance Research Journal material are invited for publication consideration in order to promote scholarly discussion and debate.

Announcements: CORD members are urged to send information about their research papers presented at professional meetings, proposed research, publications and special research activities.

Complimentary Copies: Contributors of major articles to Dance Research Journal receive three complimentary copies of the journal; reviews and reports, two complimentary copies. Offprints of articles, reviews and reports are available. Complete information including rates will be sent to each author.

Proofing: Authors of articles, reviews and brief communications will have an opportunity to re-read their work after it has been copy edited. Such edited copy should be returned to the editor immediately with author's response to any editorial changes.
