Experimental Agriculture publishes the results of experimental work in animal and crop husbandry, with an emphasis on research carried out in the warmer climates of the world. It also includes accounts of new experimental techniques, discussions of specific problems met in countries where agricultural production is developing rapidly, review articles on new developments in scientific agriculture, and occasional papers on technical, economic and sociological aspects of farming systems. The journal is the successor to The Empire Journal of Experimental Agriculture.

Each annual volume comprises four parts (published in January, April, July and October) plus an index.

Subscriptions may be sent to any bookseller or subscription agent or direct to the Cambridge University Press, Bentley House, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W. 1. Subscriptions in the U.S.A. and Canada should be sent to the American branch of the Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. The subscription price is 75s. net (including postage) for an annual volume ($13.50 in the U.S.A.), payable in advance; separate parts cost 25s. net or $4.50 each (plus postage).

Back Volumes. Inquiries for Vols. 1-32 of The Empire Journal of Experimental Agriculture should be addressed to Wm Dawson & Sons Ltd, 16 West Street, Farnham, Surrey. Previously published parts of Experimental Agriculture are available from the London or New York offices of the Cambridge University Press.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions will be welcomed from scientists of all nationalities, particularly those working in tropical and sub-tropical countries where up-to-date techniques of agricultural experimentation are helping in the rapid development of more modern methods of farm production. Contributions, which must be written in English, should be sent to the Editor, Professor J. P. Hudson, University of Nottingham School of Agriculture, Sutton Bonington, Loughborough, England (after 10 July 1967 to Orchard House, Long Ashton, Bristol).

Conditions of acceptance. Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that the material has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Papers published in Experimental Agriculture may not be reprinted or published in translation without permission from the Editor, given on behalf of the Editorial Board.

General lay-out. Before having their manuscripts typed contributors are asked to look carefully at the lay-out of

CROP SCIENCE

Crop breeders, plant geneticists and physiologists, and workers in related areas will find Crop Science a source of valuable articles in their branches of science. This bimonthly journal carries reports of research in the genetics, physiology, ecology, breeding and management of field crops, turf-grasses, pastures and ranges, and in seed technology. It is published by the Crop Science Society of America.

$16.00 per year in U.S. and Canada.

THE ANNALS OF APPLIED BIOLOGY

Contents of Volume 59, No. 1, February 1967

The activation of diazinon by ganglia of the cockroach Periplaneta americana L. and its action on nerve condition and cholinesterase activity. By P. E. BURT, G. E. GREGORY and FRANCES M. MOLLOY.

The effect of certain antibiotics on reproduction of the black bean aphid, Aphis fabae Scop. By S. JAYARAJ, P. EHRHARDT and H. SCHMUTTERER.

Preliminary studies on sap-transmissible viruses of red clover (Trifolium pratense L.) in England and Wales.

Some properties of cocksfoot mottle virus. By E.P. SERJEANT.

The transmission of European wheat striate mosaic virus by Javesella pellucida (Fabr.) injected with extracts of plants and plant-hoppers. By E. P. SERJEANT.

Seed-transmission of nematode-borne viruses. By R. M. LISTER and A. F. MURANT.

Seed-transmission in the ecology of nematode-borne viruses. By A. F. MURANT and R. M. LISTER.

The significance of biological races of Ditylenchus dipsaci and their hybrids. By J. M. WEBSTER.

Effects of shading and time of year on net assimilation rates of young glasshouse tomato plants. By A. J. COOPER.

The uptake and adsorption of diquat and paraquat by tomato, sugar beet and cocksfoot. By R. C. BRIAN.

Phytotoxicity to blackcurrants of sprays containing sulphur. By B. D. SMITH and G. M. CLARKE.

A comparison of fungicide spray volumes for the control of coffee berry disease. By J. A. N. WALLIS and I. D. FIRMAN.

Bacterial canker of poplars in Britain. I. The cause of the disease and the role of leaf-scars in infection. By R. WHITBREAD.

Dothistroma needle blight of pines. I. Effect and etiology. By D. HOCKING and D. E. ETHERIDGE.

An analysis of resistant and of susceptible tomato plants to Verticillium infection. By A. K. SINHA and R. K. S. WOOD.

Subscription price 75s per volume (2 volumes of 3 parts a year). Orders may be sent to your bookseller or direct to CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS, BENTLEY HOUSE, 200 EUSTON ROAD, LONDON, N.W.1.

ANIMAL PRODUCTION

Journal of the British Society of Animal Production

Contents of Volume 9, Part 2, May 1967

INCLUDE

STOBO, ROY and GASTON. The ability of the calf weaned at five weeks of age to utilize urea given as a supplement to a low-protein concentrate.

RICKABY. Protein levels in practical diets for bacon pigs.

TOPPS and ELLIOTT. Partition of nitrogen in the urine of African sheep given a variety of low-protein diets.

LANGLANDS. Some sources of error when sampling oesophageally fistulated sheep at pasture.

WIENER. Body size, fleece weight and maternal performance of five breeds of sheep kept in one environment.

HOLME and COEY. The effects environmental temperature and method of feeding on the performance and carcass composition of bacon pigs.

KAY, MACLEOD, MCKIDDIE and PHILIP. The effect of replacement of fish meal with either urea or ammonium acetate on growth rate and nitrogen retention in calves fed ad libitum.

HINTZ and HEITMAN. Sewage-grown algae as a protein supplement for swine.

EADIE, HOBSON and MANN. Comparisons between the rumen content of barley-fed steers and that of young calves also fed on a high concentrate ration.

VEUM, POND and VAN VLECK. Correlations between sow milk production and composition and growth and haemoglobin of their pigs.

SMITH, TONKS and LAWRENCE. Back rasher ratios as predictors of lean percentage of pigs of bacon weight.

LODGE. Sorghum for barley in diets for fattening pigs.

GUNN. Hill ewe mortality.
