Rough Consensus and Running Code

A Theory of Transnational Private Law

Graf-Peter Calliess and Peer Zumbansen

'...a must read. Its theorizing is rich and ecumenical in scope. The focus is on transnational private law, but the book is requisite reading for those interested in any area of law.' Gregory Shaffer, Melvin C. Steen Professor of Law, University of Minnesota Law School

Rough Consensus and Running Code describes and analyses different law-making regimes currently observable in the transnational arena.

Graf-Peter Calliess holds the Chair in Private Law, Comparative and International Economic Law at the University of Bremen. Peer Zumbansen holds the Canada Research Chair in Transnational Economic Governance and Legal Theory at Osgoode Hall Law School.

An Introduction to the Law of the United Nations

Robert Kolb

This work aims to fill a gap in the existing legal literature by presenting a compact, concise but nevertheless panoramic view of the law of the United Nations. The book presents an overarching view of the significance of the UN organisation in general, the history of its origins in the League of Nations, the aims and principles of the Charter, governmental agencies, members of the Organisation, the non-use of violence and collective security, the peaceful settlement of disputes, and the question of amendments to the Charter.

Robert Kolb is Professor of Public International Law at the University of Geneva.

Domestic Violence and International Law

Bonita Meyersfeld

'...an original, provocative, and much needed legal framework for the coherent development of a norm against domestic violence in international human rights law' Foreword by Harold Koh, The Legal Adviser, United States Department of State (2009).

This book argues that certain forms of domestic violence are a violation of international human rights law. The argument is based on the international law principle that, where a state fails to protect a vulnerable group of people from harm, whether perpetrated by the state or private actors, it has breached its obligations to protect against human rights violation.

Bonita Meyersfeld is an international human rights lawyer and is currently working as a parliamentary legal adviser in the House of Lords.

International Law, Power, Security and Justice

Essays on International Law and Relations

Serge Sur

These collected essays deal with the evolutions and immutabilities of international society and international law during the last twenty-five years, a period during which these fields of study have undergone many changes. The starting point is that far from operating at different levels or being in conflict, international law and politics are closely intertwined.

Serge Sur is Professor of International law and relations at the University Panthéon-Assas.

Editor

Douglas A. Irwin, Dartmouth College, Hanover, USA

The World Trade Review was established at the initiative of the Secretariat of the World Trade Organization (WTO) in close cooperation with Cambridge University Press. It is an independent journal - the Editor and all but one member of the Editorial Board are drawn from university faculties - that includes articles written from economic, legal, political and inter-disciplinary perspectives on issues of relevance to the multilateral trading system. The journal also includes shorter articles seeking to rebut or challenge published papers.
