Modern Drama by Women 1880s-1930s

An International Anthology

Edited by Katherine E. Kelly

'An object lesson in the gendered bias of canon formation and the excellent alternatives by women in a dozen national traditions.'

- Tracy C. Davis, Northwestern University

Katherine Kelly convincingly offers the first direct evidence that women playwrights helped create the movement commonly known as Modern Drama. Examining twelve plays by women from all over the world, it is unprecedented in its scope and provides a collection that no scholar, student or lover of modern drama can afford to miss.
