

Editors' Notes

The Annual Mid-West Business History Conference will be held at Northwestern University on Saturday, February 15, 1963. The general theme of the conference will be "Large-Scale Enterprise in the United States, 1860-1960: Trends and Implications." The tentative schedule of topics is as follows:

MORNING SESSION:

1. "Trend Toward Large-Scale Industrial Enterprise."
2. "Changes in the Structure and Management Strategy of Large-Scale Enterprises."

LUNCHEON

AFTERNOON SESSION: PANEL DISCUSSION

"Implications of Changes in the Structure and Management Strategy of Large-Scale Enterprises from the Point of View of: the Social Historian, the Economist, the Political Scientist, the Business Man, Organized Labor, and the Government."

SOCIAL HOUR

DINNER SESSION

"Summary and Restatement"

All inquiries regarding the conference should be addressed to Howard Bennett, School of Business, Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois.

* * * *

The University of New England, Armidale, New South Wales, Australia, offers short-term appointments, of three years, as tutors to recent graduates in Economic History. The salary is £A1320-£A1560. Travel and removal expenses from and to the appointee's home town will be paid (subject to certain conditions), and tutors may have the opportunity of applying for permanent lectureships. Full information may be obtained by writing to R. Duncan at the University of New England.