

NON-PROGRAM COURSES AND SPECIAL PROJECTS

California State College at Fullerton is offering from June 17 to July 8, 1968 a Study Tour of the Middle East. The tour will visit the countries of Israel, Turkey, Jordan, Lebanon and Greece. A course, "The Past and the Present in the Middle East," will be taught along the way by the study tour director. This is a non-credit course but those desiring credit can do additional work to earn 3 units of credit. Inquiries should be directed to Professor George Giacomakis, Jr., California State College at Fullerton, 800 N. State College Blvd., Fullerton, California 92631.

Ithaca College in Ithaca, New York offers the following courses in Middle Eastern studies: History of the Middle-- A study of the Middle East from the beginning of Islam to modern times; Government and Politics of the Middle East--A study of the governments and politics of the countries of the Middle East in the contemporary period; An Economic Profile of the Middle East and North Africa-- Economic analysis of resource patterns and problems, growth rates and structural transformation, in the main countries of the Middle East and North Africa.

IN MEMORIUM

We regret to announce the passing of Professor Nabih Faris of the American University of Beirut.