

Brevis Isolation Cards and Labels instantly communicate CDC infection control precautions.

Brevis, the first sign of good patient care.

There isn't a single infection that you can't fight more effectively with the help of Brevis. That's because Brevis offers the most complete line of Isolation Cards and Labels now available to infection control professionals.

Now the entire Brevis line has been updated to make it easier for the health care staff, patients and visitors to understand and follow CDC's "Guideline for Isolation Precautions in Hospitals" (Infection Control, Vol. 4/No. 4). Included are the new "Disease-Specific Isolation Precautions" cards.

Bigger. Bolder. Easier to read.

Each card has been enlarged to 6" x 10" with bigger and bolder variable pictograms. Constant symbols for hand washing and waste disposal instructions are displayed in the lower corners of each card.

The largest type on each card is reserved for a VISITOR alert.

Instructions are printed boldly in a white band across the top of each card in English, Spanish and French.

Isolation Labels are easy to use.

Brevis Isolation Labels are miniature versions for use on patient chart covers and card files. They affix firmly to all surfaces and peel off easily. "Biohazard" and "Isolation Precaution" labels are also available for tagging waste bags and lab specimens. A specially designed aluminum rack keeps labels organized for easy dispensing.

Comprehensive. Inexpensive.

The Brevis line of Nursing Cards is now also available printed on the back of Category-Specific Isolation cards (for extra flexibility). These reusable cards feature a UV plastic coating for greater readability and longer life. This exclusive Brevis feature saves money because it cuts inventory requirements in half.

In fact, Brevis can help you control infection for far less than you might expect.
