Environmental Conservation

advocates timely action for the protection and amelioration of the environment of Mankind and Nature throughout the world. Topics range from pertinent case-histories of the past and present to rational use of resources, foreseeing ecological consequences, enlightened environmental policy, anti-pollution measures, low-impact development, environmental education and law, and ecologically sound management of all land and fresh water, sea and air, for the lasting future of Earth's fragile Biosphere.

The following are the main types of contributions which may be accepted for publication in this Journal:

- Policy-advocating leaders on outstanding topics;
- Survey articles on important aspects of its subject;
- Research papers whether basic or 'confirmatory';
- Case-history accounts of wide significance and interest;

&

Items for the following regular sections:

Short Communications & Reports (SCRs); normally not exceeding three pages of the Journal each;

Notes, News & Comments (NNCs): preferably at most one page of the Journal each;

Conferences & Meetings (C&Ms); summary reports, important prospects;

Reviews & Notices (R&Ns): of new books etc.

Each issue is generally headed by an Editorial or Guest Editorial or Comment and/or Open Letter or Editorial Notes or Notice.
