CONGRESSIONAL STAFF FELLOWSHIP AWARDS

In May the Association announced three winners for the 1968-1969 Congressional Staff Fellowship Program. The programs are made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation.

Who Hire Political Scientists

Political Scientists Who Wish to Investigate Employment Opportunities

- A professional placement service conducted by the U.S. Employment Service is available in the Exhibit Hall. The primary purpose of the service is to provide an efficient means for employers and prospective employees to meet. Applicant resumés and job vacancies are arranged by areas of specialization and are available for review by employers and applicants. Conference space can be reserved for interviews.

- Association members should:
Check in at the placement service as early as possible and activate job openings and applications by submitting convention addresses and telephone numbers. This information is needed so that interviews between employers and applicants can be arranged.

- A message exchange is provided for rapid communication between applicants and employers. Each person is given a number under which messages are left at the exchange.

- The placement service is conducted daily between 9 and 5. There is no charge for the use of the service.
