

TEACHING POLITICAL SCIENCE MATTERS

2025

Join us for the 17th American Political Science Association's Teaching & Learning Conference

FEBRUARY 7–9, 2025 | ALEXANDRIA, VA

Join political science teacher-scholars for the American Political Science Association's Teaching & Learning Conference (TLC), February 7–9, 2025, in Alexandria, Virginia! The APSA TLC is a unique meeting to promote greater understanding of high-impact practices and innovative methodologies for the political science classroom.

We invite political science teacher-scholars to explore the conference theme, “Teaching Political Science Matters,” at the Westin Alexandria Old Town. The conference provides a forum for scholars to participate in the scholarship of teaching and learning, share pedagogical techniques, and discuss trends in political science education.

Reimagining Politics, Power, and Peoplehood in Crisis Times

Join political science experts and scholars for the 2025 APSA Annual Meeting & Exhibition, September 11–14, 2025, held in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, to address the latest scholarship in political science.

THEME

Reimagining Politics, Power, and Peoplehood in Crisis Times

This year's theme explores how can political science can help understand how shifts in technology, society, and the economy are restructuring politics globally. How can our tools of explanation and interpretation help us to reimagine the possibilities of politics?
