

Yamashita's Ghost

War Crimes, MacArthur's Justice, and Command Accountability

Allan A. Ryan

"A very clear analysis that thoroughly explores both the historical and the legal aspects of the Yamashita trial. While many previous treatments of the subject of war crimes have been long on melodrama, Ryan dispassionately and thoroughly explores the issues involved from a variety of perspectives."—Ronald Spector, author of In the Ruins of Empire: The Japanese Surrender and the Battle for Postwar Asia

"Should be required reading for every military officer, every Senator and member of Congress, and every American who wishes to understand the imperfect but critical interaction between law and military operations."—Eugene R. Fidell, Senior Research Scholar in Law and Florence Rogatz Visiting Lecturer in Law, Yale Law School

416 pages, 18 photographs, 2 maps, Cloth $34.95

Landmark Law Cases and American Society

Peter Charles Hoffer and N.E.H. Hull, series editors

Gitlow v. New York

Every Idea an Incitement

Marc Lendler

"A really excellent and thoughtful piece of work, and a terrific read."—Geoffrey Stone, author of Perilous Times: Free Speech in Wartime from the Sedition Act of 1798 to the War on Terrorism

"A captivating and incredibly even-handed account that gives readers a deeper appreciation of our nation's ongoing effort to determine the meaning and limits of freedom of speech."—Paul Kens, author of Lochner v. New York: Economic Regulation on Trial

184 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $17.95

Landmark Law Cases and American Society

Peter Charles Hoffer and N.E.H. Hull, series editors

Fighting Foreclosure

The Blaisdell Case, the Contract Clause, and the Great Depression

John A. Fliter and Derek S. Hoff

“An engaging and wide-ranging history and doctrinal analysis of an important case that also explains why Blaisdell is relevant to the present mortgage foreclosure crisis.”

—William G. Ross, author of The Chief Justiceship of Charles Evans Hughes

“A case study in constitutional history as it ought to be written, with a keen eye to the political and social setting, the often-neglected role of lawyers and lower-court jurists, and the ironies and limits of litigation.”

—Michael Parrish, author of Anxious Decades: America in Prosperity and Depression

224 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $19.95

Prigg v. Pennsylvania

Slavery, the Supreme Court, and the Ambivalent Constitution

H. Robert Baker

“With crisp, engaging prose Baker reveals the critical connection between this landmark case and battles fought today over federalism, the ambiguity of the U.S. Constitution, and how important, though differing, regional priorities become embedded in the law.”—Sally Hadden, author of Slave Patrols: Law and Violence in Virginia and the Carolinas

216 pages, Cloth $34.95, Paper $16.95

Journal of American Studies

Sponsored by the British Association for American Studies

Editor

Scott Lucas University of Birmingham, UK

Journal of American Studies seeks to critique and interrogate the notion of "America", pursuing this through international perspectives on the history, literature, politics and culture of the United States. This quarterly journal publishes original peer-reviewed research and analysis by established and emerging scholars throughout the world, considering US history, politics, literature, institutions, economics, film, popular culture, geography, sociology and related subjects in domestic, continental, hemispheric, and global contexts. Its expanded book review section offers in-depth analysis of recent American Studies scholarship to promote further discussion and debate. The journal is intended not only for students and scholars, but also for general readers with an interest in the United States.

The Historical Journal

Editors

Julian Hoppit, University College London, UK

Andrew Preston, University of Cambridge, UK

The Historical Journal continues to publish papers on all aspects of British, European, and world history since the fifteenth century. The best contemporary scholarship is represented. Contributions come from all parts of the world. The journal aims to publish some thirty-five articles and communications each year and to review recent historical literature, mainly in the form of historiographical reviews and review articles. The journal provides a forum for younger scholars making a distinguished debut as well as publishing the work of historians of established reputation.

Legal Theory

Editors

Matthew D. Adler, Duke University, USA

Larry Alexander, University of San Diego Law School, USA

David O. Brink, University of California, San Diego, USA

Scott J. Shapiro, Yale Law School, USA

Legal Theory draws contributions not only from academic law, but from a wide range of related disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, including philosophy, political science, economics, history and sociology. Topics covered fall mainly into the broad categories of analytical and normative jurisprudence, doctrinal theory, policy analyses of legal doctrines and critical theories of law.

American Society for Legal History

The American Society for Legal History is a nonprofit membership organization dedicated to fostering scholarship, teaching, and study concerning the law and institutions of all legal systems, both Anglo-American and international. Founded in 1956, the Society sponsors the journal and Studies in Legal History, a series of book-length monographs available to ASLH members at substantial prepublication discounts. In addition, the Society holds an annual meeting to promote scholarship and interaction among teachers, practitioners, and students interested in legal history, and publishes a semiannual newsletter reporting developments in the field. For further information concerning the Society, please write: Sally Hadden, Department of History, Western Michigan University, 4301 Friedmann Hall, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5334, USA.

To become a member of the Society or to renew your membership please complete, print out, and mail the following form to: Cambridge University Press, Attention: Customer Services, 100 Brook Hill Drive, West Nyack, NY 10994-2133, USA; or print it out and fax it to: 845-353-4141.
