

GERIATRIC PSYCHIATRY POSITION

The Geriatric Psychiatry Program of the Department of Psychiatry, University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, has a new faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor or above. The Geriatric Psychiatry Program has highly developed clinical resources and services. Present and future research programs with geriatric populations include clinical and basic science studies of Alzheimer's disease, descriptive psychopathology, neuropsychological assessment, experimental therapeutics, social support systems, and health services planning. It has major educational commitments to fellowship (NIMH funded) and residency training, and undergraduate medical education. Work sites include Monroe Community Hospital, a large University-affiliated chronic disease and geriatric facility having a long tradition of basic science and clinical geriatric research, and the University of Rochester Medical Center.

QUALIFICATIONS: New York State license to practice medicine, or eligible. Board certification in Psychiatry and prior research fellowship training is preferred.

SALARY: Contingent on level of clinical and research experience.
