BRITISH JOURNAL OF NUTRITION

Editor-in-Chief

G C Burdge, University of Southampton, UK

British Journal of Nutrition is a leading international peer-reviewed journal covering research on human and clinical nutrition, animal nutrition and basic science as applied to nutrition. The journal recognises the multi-disciplinary nature of nutritional science and includes material from all of the specialities involved in nutrition research, including molecular and cell biology, and the emerging area of nutritional genomics.

Editorial Policy

With a focus on the tropical and sub-tropical regions of the world, Experimental Agriculture publishes the results of original research on field, plantation and herbage crops grown for food or feed, or for industrial purposes, and on farming systems, including livestock and people. It reports experimental work designed to explain how crops respond to the environment in biological and physical terms, and on the social and economic issues that may influence the uptake of the results of research by policy makers and farmers, including the role of institutions and partnerships in delivering impact. The journal also publishes accounts and critical discussions of new quantitative and qualitative methods in agricultural research, and of contemporary issues arising in countries where agricultural production needs to develop rapidly. There is a regular book review section and occasional, often invited, reviews of research. Most papers are published within six months from acceptance.

The minimum standards for a paper to be considered by the Editor and the referees are set out below:

- The title page, all headings and the references must conform to the style of Experimental Agriculture.
- Each table and figure must be cited in the text of the typescript.
- All figures to be supplied as separate TIFF or EPS files wherever possible.
- The statistical treatment of experimental data must conform to the instructions given in Riley, J. (2001). Presentation of statistical analyses. Experimental Agriculture 37: 115–123.
