

AMERICAN LOYALIST

Jared Ingersoll

Lawrence Henry Gipson

Published originally in 1920 by Yale University Press as Jared Ingersoll, this valuable study represents an indispensable assessment of colonial opposition to the breach with England. Mr. Gipson has added a new and perceptive historiographical essay on American Loyalism. He traces developments in this phase of historical investigation and discusses the key books and articles on Loyalism that have appeared over the past half century, thereby placing his own study of Ingersoll in a broadened scholarly context.

AFTER THE REVOLUTION?

Authority in a Good Society

Robert A. Dahl

Mr. Dahl guides his reader through a thoughtful examination of the principles on which the authority of democratic government rests, the question of who "the people" should be in the concept of "rule by the people", and the several different kinds of democracy that fit different situations. He concludes his analysis with a provocative discussion of ways in which we might handle three of the most pressing problems in American democracy; inequalities of various kinds, "the corporate leviathan", and the remoteness of government from the citizen.

THE BLACKS IN CANADA

A History

Robin W. Winks

Mr. Winks has used an impressive array of primary and secondary materials to analyse the histories of black groups and individuals throughout Canada—the Maritime Provinces, the communities of the St. Lawrence Valley, Upper Canada, the central wheat-growing provinces and British Columbia. The Blacks in Canada is an extraordinary contribution to black history, to the history of Canadian-American relations, to the histories of both nations, and to British imperial commonwealth studies.

POLYARCHY

Participation and Opposition

Robert A. Dahl

Mr. Dahl identifies seven sets of conditions which he sees as favouring polyarchy—historical sequences; the socioeconomic order, both in form and level of development; inequalities; sub-cultures, cleavage patterns, and governmental effectiveness; the beliefs of political activities; and foreign control. He concludes with some tentative ideas on the implications of his analysis for strategies of change, particularly as they might affect U.S. foreign policy.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE Conscience, Tactics, and the Law

CARL COHEN

Carl Cohen presents a general theory of civil disobedience—what it is, what kinds of it there are, how and when it might be justified. Special attention is given to the most frequently heard arguments in support of it: its connections with freedom of speech and with the Nuremberg Judgments, its use as political tactic, and its concrete manifestation of conscientious principles. Attention is also given to many common arguments often confusedly registered against civil disobedience: that it supposes the individual may choose the laws that govern him, that it is counter-productive, that it encourages disrespect for law, etc. June 192 pages Cloth £3.40 Paper £1.35

FEASTING WITH MINE ENEMY

Rank and Exchange among Northwest Coast Societies

ABRAHAM ROSMAN AND PAULA G. RUBEL

One feature of Indian life of the Northwest coast of America, the potlatch, particularly attracted the anthropologists' notice. For the potlatch ceremony, a man of property called together his kin and also certain outsiders. To the latter he gave all his goods, even to the articles of household use and, finally, the very timbers of his dwelling. Abraham Rosman and Paula Rubel have examined the rich data recorded by anthropologists who studied the Tlingit, the Haida, the Tsimshian, the Nootka, the Bella Coola, and the Kwakiutl, and found in it new patterns previously unseen. June 280 pages £4.50

PARSONS AND PEDAGOGUES

The S.P.G. Adventure in American Education

JOHN CALAM

A survey and re-evaluation of the educational work of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, the famous Anglican missionary organization active in America from 1702 to 1783. The educational style and content of lessons taught via pulpit, press and library are also examined. Central to such teaching appears an overarching message combining High Church Anglicanism with a concept of empire compliance. May 264 pages £4.50

NEW YORK JEWS AND THE QUEST FOR COMMUNITY

The Kehillah Experiment, 1908–1922

ARTHUR A. GOREN

Fifty years ago a Kehillah, a community organization of Jewish immigrants, who formed to maintain ethnic integrity and to achieve social accommodation in New York City. By illuminating the everyday activity of the Kehillah experiment, Mr. Goren brings the reader directly into the social history of a community and provides a first-rate contribution to the history of New York City. January 352 pages £4.50

CHANGING CAREERS AFTER THIRTY-FIVE

New Horizons through Professional and Graduate Study

DALE L. HIESTAND

The study deals primarily with persons who change from one career to another so different that the change requires at least a year of graduate or professional education. One chapter is devoted to 17 case studies, and the final chapter points out the implications of the research for theories of occupational choice, for developmental psychology, for guidance, and for manpower policies. May 192 pages £3.15

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

BENJAMIN HAGGOTT BECKHART

A definitive study of Federal Reserve policy as it has evolved over the past sixty years by a distinguished scholar in the field of finance. The book discusses the Federal Reserve's role in war finance, in combating inflation, in overcoming the depression, in promoting economic stability and growth, and in most recently trying to solve the problems arising from the deficit in the balance of payments in the United States. August 450 pages £5.65

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, Department of American Studies, The University, Manchester M13 9PL, England.
2. Articles should generally contain about 5000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editor.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing, preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams and maps may be included by arrangement with the Editor.
5. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered in one sequence throughout the article, and should preferably be typed in double spacing at the end of the article.
6. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
7. Notes intended for the Editor or printer should be on a separate sheet.
8. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within ten days of receiving them.
9. Correction should be kept to an absolute minimum. It should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
10. Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free separates. Extra copies may be ordered according to the scale of charges.
11. Contributors need not be members of the British Association of American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
12. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the U.S.A.
