These Archaeological Reports are published by the Hellenic Society and the British School at Athens for their subscribers. They are also offered for sale to the public, and are obtainable from the Secretary, The Hellenic Society, 31-34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP.

'Archaeology in Greece' is an annual feature, whose increasing length testifies to the growing amount of excavation and publication being carried out in Greek lands. The Reports also carry regular accounts of recent work in other parts of the Greek world, including Asia Minor (this year), Central Italy and Etruria (1980, when this will for the first time be extended to include Sardinia), South Italy and Sicily, Cyprus and the Black Sea region. In addition there are occasional special reports on work by British archaeologists at sites in the Greek world.

The picture on the cover is of an archaic Cretan bird-shaped jug, from the dromos of Tomb 296 at Knossos (see page 55).
