Understanding Catholicism by Monika K. Hellwig

This book is specifically addressed to people who worry when they have questions about their faith, or when they begin to realize the old explanations, that were good enough before, no longer seem to offer coherent meaning.

Understanding Catholicism goes a long way toward reconciling new theological perspectives with old expectations of Christian faith and piety.

The challenge of the scriptures is offered here for the modern believer by the person identified by TIME magazine as "probably the premier Catholic scripture scholar in the U.S." Brown was honored by Pope Paul VI for his loyalty to the magisterium of the Church.

NEW UNDERSTANDINGS NEW CONCEPTS

THE THEOLOGICAL IMAGINATION Constructing the Concept of God by Gordon D. Kaufman

In this challenging work, Kaufman asserts that the sole task of theology is the imaginative construction of the doctrine of God. He shows how we must introduce new elements, eliminate false concepts, correct misinterpretations, and constantly analyze, criticize, and reconstruct our idea of God into terms that seem appropriate and true for our own time and place.

Zygon

Journal of
SCIENCE

ZYGON represents a unique attempt to interpret and revitalize the religious dimension of life in terms of contemporary scientific understandings. At a time when "facts" and "values" have become dangerously disjointed, Zygon seeks a symbiotic unification of the two, a "yoking" (zygon) necessary if human civilization is to survive and evolve in a scientific-technological age. In working toward this goal Zygon publishes papers from a wide range of disciplines, including such authors as natural scientists Bernard Davis, Edwin Land, and Edward O. Wilson; social scientists Victor Ferkiss, Lawrence Kohlberg, and Jerre Levy; sociologists Philip Hefner, Richard Gelwick, and Charles Sherover; and theologians Irvin Laszlo, Holmes Rolston III, and J. Robert Nelson. Recent and upcoming theme issues include Sociobiology, Values, and Religion; Nature, Mind, and Method; Systems Theory, Self, and World; Science and Religion; and the Thought of Michael Polanyi; and Private Interests, Public Good, and the Future of the Environment. Founded in 1966 by Ralph Wendell Burhoe, recipient of the 1980 Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion, Zygon is now edited by Karl E. Peters, Associate Professor of Philosophy and Religion at Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida.

ZYGON is published on a quarterly basis. Individual subscriptions are $17 for one year; overseas subscribers must add $1.50 per year to cover extra postage.

FROM HOLOCAUST TO DIALOGUE: A JEWISH-CHRISTIAN DIALOGUE BETWEEN AMERICANS AND GERMANS

Edited by Leonard Swidler

From Holocaust to Dialogue is the scholarly distillation of a year-long intense seminar among Jewish and Christian religious scholars both at Temple University in Philadelphia and at nine German universities. It contains the best essays produced in that dialogue. These essays, however, are not just rigorous scholarly undertakings—though they surely are also that—but also in many ways they represent important breakthroughs in the encounter between Judaism and Christianity. New thoughts are conceived, new vistas are envisioned, new paths are pointed out—from both the Jewish and the Christian sides. After reading From Holocaust to Dialogue one would have to disagree with Qoheleth: There is something new under the Sun!

You are invited to order a copy of From Holocaust to Dialogue for $5.00. Or you can subscribe to the world's foremost journal of interreligious dialogue in the English language—the Journal of Ecumenical Studies—and receive From Holocaust to Dialogue free with your order for vol. 19 (1982). The quarterly J.E.S. contains many very informative and important articles, book reviews, article abstracts (from some 400 journals the world over), and reports of events, all dealing with some aspect of interreligious dialogue, be it Protestant-Catholic, Jewish-Christian, Muslim-Jewish-Christian, Buddhist-Christian, Christian-Marxist, etc. You may order vol. 19 for just $16 ($18, outside the U.S.). Studies Review

Religious

A publication like Religious Studies Review has been needed for a long time in our field. We now have in the Review a thoroughly responsible organ dedicated to reviewing the critical books in the field of religion and related disciplines—it is high time and many of us are very, very grateful for it.

Sally McFague, Dean, Vanderbilt Divinity School

Religious Studies Review is a sign of maturity in the discipline, and a guide to the wealth of resources now available. Its scholarly approach and critical stance provide perspective in an area tempted to live beyond its means.

*Joseph C. McLelland, Dean, Faculty of Religious Studies
McGill University*

Religious Studies Review dramatically documents the extent to which American scholarship in religion has come of age after having achieved corporate self-consciousness only so recently. In the Review Essays each issue of RSR bristles with material relevant for anyone concerned with religious studies in its wider scope, while the Notes on Recent Publications, organized according to topic areas, provide prompt contact with the stream of books and monographs that continue to emerge from presses throughout the world. The listing of recently completed Dissertations in Religion is an added bonus.

*Robert A. Kraft, Chairperson, Department of Religious Studies
University of Pennsylvania*

I have become an enthusiastic, regular reader of Religious Studies Review. It keeps me abreast of scholarly developments and current literature in my own and in other fields in a helpful, readable way.

*Robert T. Handy, Academic Dean and Professor of Church History
Union Seminary, New York, and Adjunct Professor of Religion
Columbia University* of Christian theology as he employs the common theme of the Christian un-
