'PLANACRINE'
 TRADE MARK
 EUFLAVINE LOZENGES
 BRAND

in Stomatitis

'Planacrine' brand euflavine lozenges are a useful adjunct in the prevention and treatment of various types of stomatitis.

Their most useful application is probably in the prevention of stomatitis occurring during treatment with heavy metals such as bismuth, gold and arsenic. In aphthous stomatitis the use of 'Planacrine' will destroy the fungi and lead to rapid improvement in the condition.

Stomatitis and glossitis occur in the course of many organic and systemic diseases such as syphilis, diabetes, uraemia, hepatitis, leucaemia, colitis, quinsy and pellagra. As an addition to the major treatment of these conditions, the use of 'Planacrine' brand euflavine lozenges expedites the cure of the local mouth condition.

SUPPLIES :

"Vest Pocket" containers of 40 lozenges.

PRESCRIBE THE EASY EFFECTIVE METHOD

When spraying, the patient can hold his head in a natural position, yet the solution spreads throughout the nasal cavity, assuring thorough treatment. Effective dropper-application, on the other hand, requires a complicated posture technique which patients are apt to neglect in home treatment.
